Eleventh Annual
OKLAHOMA STATE UNIVERSITY
ENERGY CONFERENCE

Attend the OSU Energy Conference to learn from experts in the energy industry and network with energy business professionals. After attending this conference, you will have a better understanding about the current energy market, where Oklahoma stands in that market, and predictions for the future.

8:45 a.m. Welcome
Dean Ken Eastman, Spears School of Business, Oklahoma State University
Moderator: Griff Jones, President and Chief Executive Officer, Twin Eagle Resource Management, LLC, Houston, TX

9:00 a.m. Utility Scale Wind Power’s Developing Role in Oklahoma Energy Production
A summary presentation and open discussion on the development history of wind energy in Oklahoma, the dynamics influencing current and future state development, the market forces inducing wind energy investment, the political climate for renewables at a state and federal level, and wind energy’s role in a successful “all of the above” energy policy for Oklahoma and the long term benefits that will afford the state in the years to come.
Jeff Neves, Vice President, Amshore US Wind, LLC, Corpus Christi, TX

9:45 a.m. Break

10:00 a.m. Measure for Success
Cimarex Energy believes that it is difficult to improve what you do not measure. We attribute much of our success to actively tracking key performance parameters. Learn how Cimarex stays competitive and gain other insights into our culture as we discuss our areas of activity.
Tom McCoy, Vice President, Production, Cimarex Energy Company, Tulsa, OK

10:45 a.m. Today’s NGL Business: Addressing Demand and Creating Opportunities
Natural gas liquids, or NGLs, are used to make many of the household consumer products we use every day. Detergent, water bottles, toys and more are all made from NGLs, and the U.S. is one of the largest drivers of NGL production growth. Find out how ONEOK is working with producers to address NGL demand, and receive industry insights from one of the country’s leading midstream NGL companies.
Sheridan Swords, Sr. Vice President, Natural Gas Liquids, ONEOK, Tulsa, OK

11:30 a.m. Luncheon

12:30 p.m. Growing Export Opportunities for Domestic Crude Oil and Refined Products
Leading pipeline company Magellan Midstream Partners will share a perspective on the expansion of their transportation and storage services to meet the needs of their customers. Hear about future opportunities that lie ahead on the horizon for their company and industry.
Michael Mears, Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer, Magellan Midstream Partners, L.P., Tulsa
